

Roots of Rhythm

Grades K-8

In this course, students will learn about a variety of percussion instruments and their geographic origin. As an ensemble, students will learn to play different rhythms and interact using key musical elements such as dynamics, tone, call and response, unison, and improvisation. This adaptive curriculum is meant to engage the learner at every level, developing motor skills, team building skills, and musical ability, while providing a unique, educational, fun experience.

Classroom sessions are led by a teaching artist in-person.
